AIR RAID LAST NIGHT PROVES TO BE FAILURE

Big Zeppelin Comes Down In Flames While Out At Sea

SQUADRON HAD STARTED OUT FOR RAID ON ENGLISH COAST

British Fliers Met The Enemy and Drove Them Back

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 6.—The attempted raid by German Zeppelins on the east Anglian coast last night proved to be a complete fiasco, according to reports thus far received. British fliers, who are ever on the alert along the coast were ready for the visitors and met them well out at sea, bringing down one in flames, damaging a second, and driving a third away. What happened to the other two airships in the squadron is not disclosed in the official statement. The fact, however, that the report said "Zeppelins crossed the coast" is ground for the presumption and these did reach land.

There is no evidence as yet that they dropped any bombs, and it is probable that their crews were kept busy protecting their ships against pursuing British airmen.

An Associated Press dispatch from Kandalaksky, Russian Lapland, on August 5, reported the landing of an allied detachment at Archangel after a revolt against the Bolsheviks had occurred there. The Soviet troops being driven from the city.

The official statement relative to the air raid, reads:

"Five enemy airships attempted to cross the coast last night, but while still at sea were attacked by royal air force contingents, co-operating with naval units.

Three were engaged in action and one was shot down in flames 40 miles from the coast. Another was damaged, but probably succeeded in reaching its base."

CUNNING OF THE GERMANS OUTDONE BY THE BRITISH

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 6.—Interesting revelations regarding the cunning of British mystery ships which have played an important part in anti-submarine warfare are made by the naval correspondent of the Times. They show how British seamen have met German craft and cunning with craft and cunning.

Until this week the public has known nothing about the mystery ships, known in the navy as the "Q" ships, although several officers, notably Captain Gordon Campbell, have been decorated for their service in these vessels. Details now can be made public as the Germans are becoming aware through bitter experience of the methods used against them.

How a "woman and baby" accounted for a U boat is told by the correspondent. The submarine ordered a vessel to surrender and fired a few shells at her. The boats then left the ship, leaving on board a woman who ran up and down the deck with a baby in her arms as if mad. The U boat came alongside the vessel and the woman hurled the "baby" into the open hatch. The "baby" exploded and blew the bottom out of the submarine. The "woman" was decorated with the Victoria Cross.

The correspondent says that the first mention of a mystery ship was in the case of the Baralong which on August 19, 1915, sank a U boat after the torpedoing of the British liner Arabic. It will be remembered, he says, that the German government protested that there was nothing to hide, the Baralong's warlike character. The Baralong case was probably not the first in which a ruse was used and since then the disguising of armed vessels as innocent merchantmen for dealing with submarines has attained considerable dimensions.

EARL OF READING ARRIVES IN LONDON

PROVISIONS FOR EXEMPTIONS IN MAN POWER BILL

Would Not Upset Nation's War Industrial Fabric By Withdrawals

10,028,973 MEN AFFECTED; LEGISLATION TO BE EXPEDITED

Military Committee Will Ask War Secy. To Make Statement

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 6.—Broader provisions for exemptions have been written into the new man power bill, now before congress, so that the nation's war industrial fabric may not be upset by unduly large withdrawals of men over 32 years of age for military service.

Provisional Marshal General Crowder, appearing today before the senate military committee, explained that he had deemed it advisable to substitute the words "occupations and employments" for the words "industries" used in the existing law, in the section affecting industrial exemptions. This would make possible a more liberal interpretation of the law and prevent the induction into the army of many men performing essential work at home and yet not actually in industrial occupations.

Chairman Chamberlain announced after today's meeting that the committee had decided to ask Secretary Baker and General March to make statements. Secretary Baker is out of the city, but General March is expected to appear tomorrow morning. Senator Chamberlain said it was the purpose of the committee to investigate "the apparent change of front" on the part of the war department officials.

The committee desires to ascertain, said the senator, why they have in such a hurry now to have this draft bill passed when before they said they were not in a hurry.

When the question of extending the draft was before congress in connection with consideration of the army appropriation bill, Secretary Baker and other war department officials told congressional leaders that a change in draft ages was undesirable until an enlarged army program being worked out could be presented to congress.

General Crowder told the committee that he did not know the reason for the haste but that he was merely carrying out orders to get the men for military service.

Discussion of the bill by the committee is expected to be brief as most of the members are believed to be in accord with the war department plan.

With the recommendation made by Provost Marshal General Crowder that September 5 be fixed as the date of registration for the 10,028,973 men to be affected by the draft age extension in view, it was said today by leaders of both houses that every effort would be made to expedite the legislation.

Opposing Forces On the Rheims-Soissons Front Preparing For Further Movements As Intensity of Artillery Fire Continues

AISNE RIVER OFFERS FLEEING HUNS GOOD NATURAL DEFENSE

Point of Germans' farthest advance and the Aisne river line. Military experts do not believe the Germans will halt their advance and make a determined stand until after they have reached the northern bank of the Aisne. This stream, with its steep, wooded banks, offers the Germans a good natural defensive line. If the Germans do not halt at the Aisne this will be good evidence that the crown prince's army has sustained a worse defeat than present allied official dispatches from the west front would seem to indicate.

FOUR DAY DRIVE FOR WAR STAMPS STARTED TODAY

Two hundred Newark men constituting the city division of the Licking County War Work organization assembled at Masonic Temple at 6 o'clock last night preparatory to the four day War Savings Stamp drive which started today.

After dinner Mr. C. L. Gamble entertained the war workers with two Columbia records, Pershing's Message to America, and Ambassador Gerard's famous speech wherein he told a high German official, who said that America would never enter the war because 500,000 German reservists in the United States would arise to prevent it, that if there are 500,000 German reservists in this country we have 501,000 lamp posts for them.

Chairman Edwin C. Wright explained the purpose of the meeting, namely to prepare for this week's W. S. S. campaign. He said that the war work organization has pledged itself to the sale of $540,000 worth of War Savings Stamps, that being the amount needed to complete the sale of Licking county's quota of $1,236,180 for the year. Half of this sum is to be raised in Newark, half in the country districts.

Chairman Wright first introduced Melville Rank, son of Mrs. Victoria Rank, who is home on a short furlough. Mr. Rank brought forth a mighty cheer when in the course of his talk he referred to the fact that not a single American soldier has been lost in crossing the Atlantic where the convoy has been in charge of the United States navy. Mr. Rank is one of the big vessels that is conveying American troops and he has made several trips across the ocean. Next Mr. Wright introduced Private Thompson, an American who lost his right arm in serving with the Canadian army in France. Mr. Thompson is spending a few days in Licking county traveling with the Wehrle tank which is visiting a number of towns throughout the county.

The principal speaker of the evening was Hon. John Connor, a Columbus attorney, who gave a magnificent patriotic address and aroused much enthusiasm in his audience.

The chairman of the Licking County War Savings Stamp committee was asked to speak on the coming campaign. He told of the work that had been done and announced that the slogan for the week's drive is $17,000 an hour. $17,000 a day for August 6, 7, 8 and 9. The sale of $540,000 worth of War Stamps will finish the year's quota assigned by the government to Licking county.

Chairman Wright announced that all township chairmen have been asked to make daily reports of sales and that the entire organization will meet at 7 o'clock Friday evening to receive the final reports. Early in the evening 25 machines were sent to every section of the county carrying to each township organization the printed supplies and a man who explained every feature of the four day campaign.

This drive has been well planned by the war work organization. Every man is "up on his toes" and is ready to work. The success of the war workers in the Liberty Loan campaign and in the War Chest Drive

ARMY OF THE CROWN PRINCE WAS SHATTERED

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the French Army in France, Aug. 6.—(Morning)—The German crown prince is now engaged in reconstructing his shattered divisions behind the lines with the aid of the remainder of the 1919 recruits, in the opinion of General Mangin, whose plan played such a brilliant part in forcing the German retreat from the Marne.

Some of the German divisions which took part in this battle had their company strength reduced to less than 50 men—some of the companies being still further depleted in numbers. In addition some of the best divisions of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria were used in the battle, having been loaned the German crown prince from the armies further north.

GERMAN MINISTER OF MARINE WILL RESIGN SHORTLY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 6.—Admiral von Capelle, German minister of marine, will resign shortly, according to Berlin dispatches to the Stuttgart Tagblatt, the Munich Zeitung and the Augsburg Zeitung.

Admiral von Capelle succeeded von Tirpitz as German minister of marine in March, 1916. His reported resignation may have some connection with the retirement of Admiral von Holtzendorff, head of the naval general staff, announced on August 22. Several days before his announced retirement, von Holtzendorff had apologized for the failure of German submarines to sink American transports.

PARISIAN CONTEMPT FOR LONG RANGERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Monday, Aug. 5.—Contemptuous smiles and jocular remarks greeted the first explosion of the German long-range shell in Paris today, because a resumption of the bombardment at this time was exactly what the population expected the Germans to do. Despite the inclement weather scores of persons sat indifferently on the terraces and at the cafes saluting each shell with caustic comments.

Expressions of rage and hope of revenge soon were heard however, when it became known that women and children had been murdered wantonly by the German shells. "Every one of those shots will cost Fritz a great pain," said a brave American soldier. That is the feeling of the entire population.

BRITISH BOAT IS SUB VICTIM

BIG GUNS BROUGHT INTO ACTION BY THE GERMANS ALONG THE VESLE RIVER AND AMERICAN LINE RESPONDS AND BIG GUN DUEL IS NOW ON

HILLTOPS, FORESTS, CROSSROADS, HIGHWAYS BEING RAKED BY VARIOUS KINDS OF GAS SHELLS

Yankees Continue to Hold Fismes and Small Detachments of French and Americans Have Crossed the Vesle at Various Points on Reconnoitering Expeditions—Believed That German Crown Prince Will Further Retire to Prepared Positions on the Northern Bank of the Aisne—Activity Along Vesle Sector Indicated Gen. Foch is Not Yet Through With the Crown Prince.

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the American Army on the Vesle, Monday, Aug. 5.—The Germans facing the Americans along the Vesle increased the intensity of their artillery fire today, bringing into action guns of 150 kilometre against the forces of Fismes. During the afternoon the Germans employed flame projectors from the slopes north of the Vesle, where they appeared to be well organized. Machine guns also were used repeatedly.

The American line also was subjected to a heavy fire from German 105's and late in the afternoon the enemy raked the hill tops with various kinds of gas shells.

The big gun duel soon became so violent that observation was difficult and maps had to be used; the Americans picking out German positions observed during the day. The Germans shelled forests, cross roads, highways, clumps of trees and all other places where they thought troops or supplies might be congregated.

HEAVY ARTILLERY DUELS

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
On the Rheims-Soissons front the situation has been stabilized for the moment while the opposing forces prepare for further movements. Uneasiness along the northern front continues and Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has carried out another withdrawal. To the British he has given up territory along the Lys salient. Meanwhile the French and British are organizing the territory evacuated north and south of the Somme in Picardy.

Heavy artillery duels and patrol actions are in progress along the Vesle. French and American troops in small units have crossed to the north of the river at various points, mostly on reconnoitering expeditions. The enemy has failed in attempts to prevent these incursions. Fismes, in the center of the line and which is held by the Americans apparently is the special mark of the German gunners and they are bombarding it violently. The Americans, however, maintain their position and have even sent patrols across the river at this point.

In allied capitals it is not believed that the German crown prince will attempt to stand long on the northern bank of the Vesle. He will soon retire to prepared positions north of the Aisne. The Vesle line is capable of being outflanked without much effort and it would seem the part of wisdom for the enemy to withdraw to behind the Aisne.

General Foch has given no indication of his plans. The activity along the Vesle lends color to the opinion that he is not yet through with the crown prince and that the Germans between Soissons and Rheims will have to give more ground.

The ends of this sector of the battle front there has been little activity, although it is from the regions of Rheims and Soissons that flanking movements will have to be launched. It is not improbable the allied leader is waiting until his troops and guns in strong force can reach the southern bank of the Vesle before continuing operations against the crown prince.

Except for occupying the ground given up by the Germans along the Aisne and west of the Vesle, the allies have made no move against the enemy on these sectors. That the retreat from west of the Aisne was not an isolated move is shown by the withdrawals along the Aisne and from the La Bassée canal in Flanders. In the north the Germans withdrew from the canal in the region of Pacaut wood, northwest of Bethune. This position marked the German farthest point west in the Lys salient. Elsewhere on the western front there has been no activity.

Reconnoitering of the bombardment of Paris by the enemy long range cannon was followed Monday night by an attempt by German airplanes to hold England. The hostile aircraft did not succeed in getting far inland.

American troops were among the allied contingents landed at Archangel, Russia, last week. The population received the expedition with cheers, having risen against the Bolsheviks when it became known the allies were coming. The Bolsheviks made only weak resistance.

More than 120 persons are missing from the torpedoed ambulance transport Warilda, sunk in the English channel Saturday by a German submarine. Among the number is one American soldier and several nurses. Most of the 650 survivors

GEO. H. HAMILTON IS ELECTED NEW COUNCIL CLERK

Will Succeed J. S. Woodward Compelled to Resign on Account of Illness.

The city council met in regular session last evening and thanks to the progressive and pushing methods of the presiding officer, R. L. Williams, was in session but an hour, transacting business that ordinarily would have carried the members over to near the hour of eleven.

All members responded to the roll call Messrs. Ashbrook, Baker, Bazler, Faust, Keyes, Knauber, Newkirk, Redman and Riggs being present.

The first business coming before the councilmanic body being the reading by Clerk J. S. Woodward of his own resignation. It was moved and seconded that the same be accepted and Councilman Knauber stated that it was with regret that he moved its acceptance as Mr. Woodward had made a faithful and loyal clerk, but was compelled to resign the office owing to the state of his health.

COL. GEO. HAMILTON.

J. S. WOODWARD.

Mr. Knauber then stated that at a caucus of the members held just before the meeting it was decided to name George H. Hamilton, well known Republican party manager, for the position and he moved that he be named Mr. Woodward's successor. The motion was seconded and carried unanimously and shortly after the newly elected clerk took his position beside the retiring clerk and was instructed in a part of his future duties. Mr. Woodward has served in his present position for nearly four years. His resignation is to take effect September 1st.

The street committee in its report directed the director of public service to proceed with all work which is at present under his supervision. The law committee in its report would not agree to the six cents fare asked by the Ohio Electric railway company, and made the following report on the same:

Subject: Increase Street Car Fare. The reference of a communication from the Ohio Electric railway company asking a change in the ordinance to read: "Six cents (5c) city fare, or nine (9) tickets for fifty cents (50c.) The report and figures given your committee by the Ohio Electric railway have been fully considered by us and we have concluded to recommend that the ordinance be changed to read: "Five (5) cents (5c) city fare," providing the Ohio Electric will agree in writing to-wit:

1. To maintain Labor Tickets (8 tickets for 25c) during certain hours, as are maintained now.

2. That city fare be maintained west to the Cherry Valley School house, as this is now a city school district. Should the corporation line be extended past Cherry Valley school, then 5c fare to corporation line.

3. That city fare be maintained east to Madison Heights addition.

4. That the Ohio Electric railway change a spur just north of Sybil run on Fourth street to be made in to a switch, so cars can run through instead of backing out to main track.

Suggestions.

1. That in-bound cars on Union street that stop for the block near Eleventh street stop 60 feet further west so as to not congest traffic while waiting for west-bound cars to pass.

2. That the Ohio Electric railway company cease to block the sidewalk at their depot with freight and passenger cars longer than three minutes.

This change to be kept in force one year after peace terms are signed.

Supplemental Report.
August 5, 1918.

At an open meeting of the city council chamber, a children's fare of 3c to the age of 11 years was suggested. The city street car maintenance free fares up to 5 years of age. Most persons are under the impression that this is granting a new franchise.

The proposition before your committee is to change the reading of one section of their franchise. While we are heartily in favor of 3c children fare, we fail to see where we can include it in our report.

This also should be taken up by the city council and the Ohio Electric railway company with the main report on this subject.

Frank Knauber,
S. O. Riggs,
H. C. Ashcraft,
Law Committee.

Supplemental Report No. 2.

In the report of the Ohio Electric railway company to your committee reads as follows: In view of the fact that it furnishes power to many large industries in the state and furnishes prompt, rapid, and in many cases exclusive services for transportation of employees of such industries, many of whom are engaged in important war work, and the further transportation of materials for such industries, etc. We would recommend the council grant permission and urge the Ohio Electric railway company to sell power at the same rate now charged by the Central Power Co. to manufacturers. This means power to industries along its right of way from its trolley or feed wires in times of emergency, as fuel shortage or breakdown of machinery. This would be the means of keeping in operation some institutions which would have to close down indefinitely, and would keep the men at work. The actual cost of connections to its lines to be paid by the user of such power.

This should be taken under advisement by the city council and the Ohio Electric railway company in connection with main report.

H. C. Ashcraft,
Law Committee.

Carrier Hurst of the postoffice department was present and addressed the body asking that council recommend that the street car company carry postoffice carriers free of charge and that by doing so it would greatly increase the facilities for the delivery of mail. It would be of especial benefit in the curtailment of the afternoon mail delivery and would rather result in better service to the citizens. Mr. Hurst stated that so far as the carriers were concerned it was of no material benefit to them as they were paid for eight hours per day and the walking back from the outskirts of the city was a part of that time. His only object in making the request was in the interest of better service to the city.

The mayor's report showed that 310 had been collected in fines, taxes and licenses for the month of July. It was received and filed.

A petition was presented by the Simpson Foundry Co. and the employees of the plant asking that the city extend the water lines to the plant on St. Clair street so that they might have fire protection as well as water for their wash rooms and shower baths. Several of the employees of the plant were present and addressed council asking for the concession. The matter was referred to Service Director Wilson.

Another petition was presented asking that no action be taken at the present time on the sidewalk improvement for North Morris street, and that it be deferred until some future time. It was received and filed.

A petition was received from the police department signed by Police Chief Sheridan and all the patrolmen and from the fire department signed by Chief Bausch and all the firemen, asking for an increase of 55 per cent per month and one day off in five instead of six. The petitions were referred to the finance committee.

A communication from C. H. Cole asked that the grade of an alley between Fourth and Fifth street be taken care of as it backed the water upon his property.

A communication from the improved Order of Red Men was read which objected to any increase of street car fare over the present rate.

A report was made to Service Director Wilson by E. G. Bradbury, expert engineer, on the water works plant, and which approved of most of the recommendations made by Superintendent Taylor Kussmaul.

An ordinance was next introduced by Councilman Riggs, establishing a quiet zone around the city hospital. It provides a speed limit and prohibits the blowing of horns or the sound of claxons. The rules were suspended and it was passed on its third and final reading.

An ordinance providing for the appropriation of property in Buckingham street was given its first reading. It was made necessary on account of opening up of Merchant street.

A resolution was introduced by Councilman Knauber requesting the two railroads passing through the city to provide their own electric lights at the street crossings. As this is a state law and has been in force in other cities for many years Councilman Knauber thought that Newark ought to wake up and see that it is enforced here. The resolution was adopted.

A resolution was introduced by Councilman Faust thanking the Seagrave company and the water works company of Columbus, together with all local firms and citizens who rendered assistance at the water works plant during the late unpleasantness. The resolution was adopted.

A representative of the Woodmen of the World was present and asked council to reduce the license for carnivals, which is $50 per day, so that they might bring a carnival to this city during the week of August 26th. Council expressed a willingness to reduce the license fee but informed the representative that it could only be done by passing another ordinance which would require thirty days for it to become effective and that would make the date too late. Council then adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—A shower in the far north that is increasing in size offers the only promise of relief from the excessive hot wave which today overspreads the entire eastern half of the country from the lower Missouri valley to the Atlantic coast. Relief from that source, however, is not in immediate prospect for the sweltering eastern districts, since at least 36 to 48 hours must pass before the showers travel eastward far enough to make their influence noticeable.

There is prospect of local rains along the lower lakes and in the Lake Superior region which should relieve the hot spell in those sections to some extent but elsewhere the weather promises to be fair and hot. A tropical disturbance, the weather experts said today is evidently approaching the gulf coast although the precise point of contact cannot be ascertained as yet.

Its effect on the heat wave was not forecast.

MEANWHILE, YOU BUY your share of WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Seventeen Thousand dollars an hour today, tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. That is the slogan of the Licking County War Work organization in its four-day War Savings Stamp drive. In order to go over the top Licking county must buy another half-million dollars' worth of W. S. S. and 500 of Newark and Licking County's leading men are on the job this week with $540,000 worth of stamp sales as their goal.

War Savings stamps are the world's best investment. They are absolutely tax free, they pay 4.27% interest, they may be registered free of cost and they are guaranteed never to go below par. Uncle Sam has promised to pay back all of your money both principal and interest upon 10 days' notice.

A "Victory List" appears elsewhere in today's Advocate. This "Victory List" is being posted on the new bulletin board in the court house park. The names will stand until Christmas. Every buyer of 200 $5 W. S. S. (August price $838) is entitled to a place in the "Victory List."

The dollars form the great bulwark behind the fighters. Their might is second only to the man power. You Licking County people who can not fight must supply the money. Already more than 1200 Licking County men are fighting for their country. They must be backed up to the hilt. The way is open to us all through the purchase of War Savings Stamps. If you can't buy 200 buy 100, 50, 25—yes buy one stamp! Every stamp counts. The money will all come back to us with interest to educate our children, to establish our business, to care for our old age.

Licking County's W. S. S. quota is $1,236,180. Our cash sales to date are $751,692. Let's finish the job this week by buying the allotment that Uncle Sam has assigned. Seventeen thousand dollars an hour will turn the trick. Buy War Savings Stamps this week.

THE LICKING COUNTY WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE.

BUYERS OF 200 $5 W. S. S. HAVE NAMES ON VICTORY LIST COURT HOUSE PARK BULLETIN

The Licking county war work organization, today commenced its $540,000 War Savings stamp drive with a membership in the $1000 War Savings society of 321. Only one other county in Ohio (Cincinnati) has a larger membership in the "Unit Club" than Licking. The war organization workers hope to build this $1000 victory list up to 600 this week.

Bulletin boards have been erected in the courthouse park (west side of the Newark public square) and upon these names of buyers of 200 W. S. S. are being painted. These boards, which are to be electrically lighted, are to stand until the end of the year. Here are the names that are being painted upon the boards at the opening of the four-day campaign. INVESTIGATING SPIRIT.

Some people wonder why they lack success in life, when others apparently less brilliant have attained higher rewards. The answer to this question is often found in the question whether a man has the investigating spirit or not.

This spirit wins success in big fields and little. A notable example of it has been seen in the way the Germans have conquered Russia. The Germans have to a remarkable extent the investigating spirit. Sometimes their investigations have been nullified by their failure to understand other peoples.

But in Russia their spirit of patient investigation did win out. While France, England and America were hoping blindly that Russia would come through and keep fighting, the Germans had their investigators working their way. They sized up the situation, and persuaded the simple minded Russians to surrender their arms and run home. While it was a success won by falsehood, yet it was based on thorough investigation.

To take our part in world competition we too must have the investigating spirit. If we are to prevent the Russians from becoming the mere slaves of Germany, we must have our own investigators learning how we can secure Russian co-operation.

We need more of the investigating spirit in all our life. Many men make failures in business because they do not study in advance the conditions they are going to deal with. They see the situations around them, and imagine that people in other conditions want the same thing. Then they invest their money in some proposition at a distance. When they set there they find conditions wholly different, and their proposition not calculated to win success of any kind. national or personal, is built on a thorough study of the conditions we have to meet.

GERMAN BRAINS.

When the Germans make some particularly brilliant stroke many of us get panicky. We begin to feel that they are "supermen" after all as they claim, and able to accomplish things that other people can't.

This feeling has been largely promoted by their amazing success in making Russia crumple up. Yet it was just like taking candy from a child. The ignorant Russians were as easily gulled as a stupid child by a wily sharper. It was no triumph of brains.

In many other fields German brains have not shown up so well. They completely mistook the temper of most of the people with whom they had to deal. They did not believe that England would fight. They thought if England did go in, Ireland would set up an independent republican form of government. They thought that America would never fight. And if America did fight, they thought we could do nothing, because the German reservists in this country would rise in revolt. They thought Mexico and Japan could be induced to favor the German arms by promises of giving them Texas and California.

These propositions in every case were preposterous. Yet the German "supermen" took them very seriously. That does not look like super brains.

The Germans have won their triumphs by superior mental facilities. They got them partly by unity of action, everyone cordially supporting the war from the start. But much more they got them by taking the world unawares. If while you are quietly minding your own business and suspecting nothing, a ruffian armed to the teeth jumps on your back, it takes a hard struggle to throw him off. He hasn't shown any superior brains. Merely superior brutality and low treachery. That kind of things does not win in the long run.

OUR LACK OF GUILT.

Some ingenious mind has conceived the idea that all this talk about our slow progress in the war is of the nature of a camouflage, designed to deceive Germany. The idea is that the United States is a lot better prepared than appears, and that the agitation of criticism is all stage play, got up to conceal from the Germans the rate of our real progress.

The German mind would be perfectly capable of pulling off a stunt like this. They have put out reports that are no doubt intended for this purpose. But our ways and talk he so much on the surface, we talk so freely and frankly, that no such deception could ever be successfully worked.

It reminds us of the experience a bunch of newspaper reporters had some years ago in one of our cities. A certain political committee (it is needless to mention the party) was very much annoyed because full reports of its proceedings used to be printed in the papers.

Everyone was accused of being the leaky member. There were great heart searchings at the meetings and much fiery oratory. Every member pledged himself to keep secret all proceedings. Yet every day there appeared a full report in the newspapers.

The secret of it was that the committee men, in their excitement and anger, talked at such high pitched voices, that the sound easily penetrated to the corridors outside. The reporters camped on the stairs and got accurate report of the meeting. They vanished when the motion to adjourn was put, and went back to the office, to write up their reports at their leisure.

That is much the way things go in this country. Everyone tells everything he knows, and the German spies learn everything, frequently by reading the newspapers. They know our rate of progress perfectly well.

pride and prestige must go by the board, that one council must be instituted, one army created and one supreme command set up. That decision spelled Germany's doom.

It is understood that President Wilson's insistence was a factor in this determination. America, in turn, promptly responded to the call of France and Great Britain for men, and the transportation of troops across the Atlantic was hastened. New courage and resolution were awakened in France and in England. A second German drive, this time against the French lines, was met and checked. Italy, meanwhile, had pulled herself together and in one of the most sensational achievements of the war smashed the Austrian advance and turned it back in disaster.

Germany of course knew that she was checked. Anxiety began to mix itself with confidence. The situation in Austria was alarming. An important U-boat base had been put out of business and the submarines were being sunk at least faster than they could be built, and ships were being launched faster than Germany could sink them. A longer time was taken now than before to make everything ready for one more drive. This one should succeed. It should be "the peace offensive." At least, Rheims should be pinched off, the Marne be crossed and the line be straightened from Soissons to Châlons. The way to Paris would lie open.

But Foch was ready. His army, reorganized, was ready. The Americans were ready. The shock was terrific, but it was not the allied line that broke. July 15 was a day of fate. With the swiftness of a whirlwind resistance was developed into counter-offensive. Blow followed blow. Germany fell back.

The moral effect of this substantial victory already is stupendous and it will be cumulative. Germany cannot recover. The American fighting force reinforcing and reinvigorating the superbly organized and disciplined armies of France and Great Britain, flanked by victorious Italy, will press the advantage and drive it home. There will be no boastful rejoicing, no indulgence in delusion that the war is won, but there will be no relenting. The German army will be smashed. The Allies are going east. There will be no "negotiation" with an empire of liars and murderers will unconditionally surrender. A peace of civilization will be signed in Potsdam.

THE DRAFT AGE.

(Ohio State Journal.)

One great advantage of fixing the draft limit ages at 15 to 45 would be the effect which such action would have in Germany. These ages are generally regarded as the natural limits within which the average able-bodied man is fit for the soldier's duty. To adopt them in America would serve as one more warning to Germany that we are in this war to beat her at any cost. Our enemy may or may not go on with the war in the face of certain ultimate defeat. If she does go on, it is conceivable that we may need all our available man power. If she does not go on, her government's decision or her people's decision to quit will be due not only to her own exhaustion but to the evidence that America means to see this thing through to the bitter end. So it looks like good judgment, in either case, to be ready and to have it known that we are ready to call out all the fighting men we have.

Dayton, Aug. 6.—Vilbur Wright Field as a diving school for aviation cadets has been discontinued, by order of the war department. Most of the cadets left their post last night for other training stations. The field will be used as an armorer's school. It was announced today that the war department has found that the field was not a practical one, owing to the comparatively small number of days on which flying could be done. It is expected that Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Duncan, commandant at the field, who came here a short time ago from Kelly Field, will remain in command. There may be some changes in the official staff, it was announced.

King Keen Business Man.

The western world is inclined to remember Philip of Spain as the originator of Belgian atrocities and the patron of inquisitions, but a recent document issued by the state department of Mexico shows him to have been a long-headed business man, a medieval Rockefeller. Philip, it seems, was several hundred years in advance of the Rockefeller interests and the syndicate of British speculators in sensing the value of Mexican oil lands. In the charters he issued to companies of settlers and adventurers, he granted the right to exploit the surface of the lands—the right to fell trees and raise crops—but kept to himself the ownership of the oil and all other wealth hidden in the ground.

To Get Coffee Extract.

Under a recent French patent an integral coffee extract is obtained in the following manner: Powdered coffee is heated in a series of closed vessels to a heat lying near the roasting point, and it is traversed by a current of cold air or inert gas. Such air charged with aromatic particles is sent direct into another set of chambers holding a dry powder or extract of coffee, this latter having been prepared from previously treated coffee, which has been deprived of aromatic substances. Such dry extract is obtained by infusion, concentration, then evaporation and transforming to a dry powder. To this extract the aromatic substances are added.

The Building of Life.

Life is a building. It rises slowly day by day, through the years. Every new lesson we learn lays a block on the edifice which is rising silently within us. Every experience, every touch of another life on ours, every influence that impresses us, every book we read, every conversation we have, every act of our commonest days, adds something to the invisible building.—J. Three boys, Charles Marple, 16, William Anderson, 13 and William Eiser, 12, were in juvenile court before Judge Hunter this morning, on an affidavit filed by Superintendent Crilly of Cedar Hill cemetery. The Marple lad being the older and leader of the crowd, and having been warned to stay away from the cemetery, was fined $10 and costs by the judge which he paid. The other two youngsters were given a lecture and warned as to what their conduct must be in the future.

Adjudged Insane.

ILL FEELING SAID TO EXIST BETWEEN GERMAN PRINCES

(Associated Press Correspondence) Paris, July 26.—Ill-feeling between the German crown prince and Crown Prince Rupprecht had its effect on the German high command in beginning the present offensive between Soissons and Rheims which already has turned into a defeat for the armies commanded by the heir to the Prussian throne.

The German crown prince, according to reports, strongly desired that his armies should have the honor of striking the first blow in the offensive of 1918. The emperor is believed to have lent a favorable ear to the wishes of his son and early indications were that the German crown prince would have another chance to redeem his great failure at Verdun.

Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, whose command is on the northern end of the battlefield, however, laid his case directly before the high command instead of before the emperor. As a military preparation it was the view of General Ludendorff and his associates that the blow should be struck in the north and without taking into account the personal issue between the two crown princes the high command decided to attack in the north. The emperor is said to have assented rather reluctantly, while the German crown prince maintained that the main drive should be made farther south.

Decision having been made, the big offensive opened in the north in March and was given a double check, first, east of Amiens, and second, east of Hazebruck. This failure gave the German crown prince strong support for his plan that the drive should be made against the French lines and apparently the high command gave his consent.

On May 27 the German crown prince struck against the Chemin-des-Dames and was not halted until the Marne was reached. His next effort to reach Paris by way of the Montdidier-Noyon front was stopped short. His latest effort, begun on July 15, was stopped after three days and at this writing the Marne salient is slowly being wiped out.

It has been reported that Rupprecht has been compelled to send divisions to the aid of the German crown prince, thus probably adding to the bitterness of the pill of defeat which the German crown prince is now having forced upon him by General Foch.

Symbolical Button.
"Rich-man, poor-man, beggar-man, thief," runs the old song. Why, we as kiddies even staked our fortunes on the value of buttons! And have our more expensive pleasures of recent years given us any more genuine joy than the simpler one of our childhood—Button, button, who's got the button? The forfeits and fines at least were not so exacting as we now pay for some of our joy-riding entertainments. A small thing is the button—yet it is symbolical of all the little courtesies and niceties of speech, the little daily acts of service that bind and fasten us together in amiable family and national unity.

"Clothes don't make the man," quoted the Wise Guy. "No, but it is better not to go around without any on, even in hot weather, unless you want to get pinched," replied the Simple Mug.

HANOVER CHAUTAUQUA WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Hanover, O., Aug. 6.—The second annual chautauqua of Hanover, will close a three-day program tonight. The attendance this year is good and a fine program has been rendered. Last night the principal speaker was Sergeant McBennie of the Canadian army, who gave a fine word-picture of the great war in which he was wounded. At the close of the program, C. H. Spencer, chairman of the Licking county war savings committee, was introduced. After speaking briefly on the purpose of this week's campaign for the sale of war stamps, Mr. Spencer introduced Private Thompson, and this Canadian soldier who told some of his interesting experience in the war in France.

I believe Dr. Parker's Treatment will cure the worst case of Indigestion and Constipation.

Read what he says: "For ten years I was an intense sufferer from indigestion and constipation. I was treated by several different doctors but none gave me more than temporary relief. Finally a friend recommended to me Dr. Parker's treatment for indigestion and constipation. I bought a box of it, and from the first I felt a relief and after taking a few boxes, I was entirely relieved and cured, and felt as well as I ever did. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Parker's treatment believing it will cure the worst case if taken according to instructions."

Rev. W. H. Hickman, 137 W. Locust street, Newark, Ohio. Symptoms of Indigestion: Diarrhoea, Sour Stomach, Bloating, Belching, Pain in the Stomach and Bowels, Headache, Backache, Constipation, Bowels Irregular, Bad Breath, Weak and Nervous. There are other symptoms but these are the important ones.

Dr. Parker's treatment is fully guaranteed when taken for what it is recommended. Money back if not satisfied. Price $1.00. Prepared by George R. Parke, M.D., Athens, Ohio, and for sale by all druggists. (Adv.)

CAMP SHERMAN NOTES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 6.—Grand lodge trustees of the Odd Fellows were at Camp Sherman yesterday conferring with Captain James C. Metts in charge of the community house relating to selecting a site for an Odd Fellows home in the community group.

The lodge trustees spent the larger part of the day in looking over the ground but announced that they have not finally selected a site for the proposed building. A number of lodges have already built homes in the community group.

Major General Harry C. Hale received yesterday an opinion from the judge advocate general of the United States in cases of pay status of men while absent without leave. General Hale ordered hereafter men who absent themselves from their posts or companies without authority will receive neither pay nor allowances and will be paid nothing for their period of absence. This includes the days from the date of absence until the date of return to military control. Men who are included under this ruling will be required to make good the time lost by such absence.
